

The gasworks burned last night. Eva came and talked before breakfast, then she was over after. Burned quite cool. Gang up some fans. I took Mrs. Cannon two even more to let her see the size of them. They were painting the kitchen floor bright yellow. I sized a picture for my room. Hofmann's "Christ in the garden of Gethsemane".

WEDNESDAY 17

(290-75)

The man came and cleaned the stove. The sweet potatoes we had last night went for one. Hammond went up to the church. I read "Haban the Hermit" then I got ready and started. Met Grammie & Mrs. Hahn at the corner. We went to McFarren's and got goods for my green skirt. Then for Mrs. Anderson's. Got some narrow velvet ribbon for my hair. Met Mrs. Pay. Got "Wilhelm Nightingale" was in flower at Library. Went to Keating's after my picture. Pay's have sold their house and are going to live in the city.
